

KLARA R Park Bench

The KLARA series features a selection of attractive benches with a simple and clean design. The bench consists of a single steel frame, where the broad front edge contrasts nicely with the wood.

No matter which colour frame or type of wood you choose, KLARA will always be a classic and elegant addition to any urban space.

The curved edges on the side and back sections are extremely user-friendly and contribute to the product's strong identity. A detachable armrest for the disabled is available for purchase.

It's been originally designed by Sweden's DinellJohansson, specifically for the area around the Klara Church in Stockholm. Hence its name, but naturally it can also be seen in other locations in the cityscape.

The KLARA Bench features relatively slender legs. However, all the steel parts used in the bench are extremely sturdy and are made of hot-dip galvanised steel.

All of the steel parts are hot-dip galvanised, giving the product an extremely durable surface, and requiring only a minimum amount of maintenance. At the same time, hot-dip galvanisation means that the lifetime is considerably longer than it would have been if left untreated.

KLARA is a series – and the individual benches are designed to complement each other well in urban spaces. Why not place the KLARA Park Bench on the edge of an area and supplement it with the round KLARA R Park Bench around a couple of trees?
