

Lakeside Bench

Lakeside Benches are inspired by the familiar themes in nature and historic design that mark the work of architect Margaret McCurry. Benches share a common bent steel frame that recalls the traditional front-porch platform swing. One option has a steel shell seat and back with decorative patterns incised by state-of-the-art plasma-cutting technology. Standard motifs of graceful grasses or falling leaves reflect the environment and custom patterns can be created.

Specification:

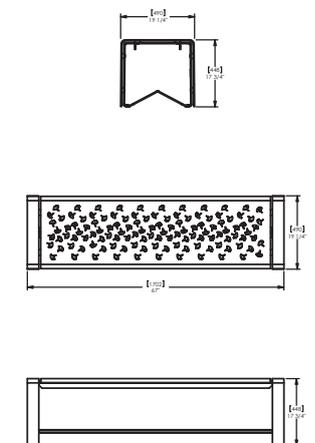

Materials:

Frame - steel

Seat - steel; timber

Dimensions

H: 448mm
W: 1702mm
D: 490mm

(Technical Drawings for variants available on request)

